

Early Settlers, Founding Of Pocahontas

By SHIRLEY DONNELLY

Long has it been in my heart to tell you about Pocahontas County of West Virginia. This is one of West Virginia's 55 counties which is getting pretty well along in its teens.

In 1821 they created the county — created it out of Bath, Pendleton, and Randolph counties of what was then Virginia. It's one of our largest counties when it comes to area, 1,464.94 square miles. It compares favorably with Randolph's 1,046.94 square miles and stacks up right well with Greenbrier's 1,822.8 square miles, these two being West Virginia's most extensive shires.

They named Pocahontas after the Indian princess of over Jamestown way. I like to put two-and-two together sometimes and the recent visit of Queen Elizabeth II of England to Jamestown helped me do it. Pocahontas was the daughter of Chief Powhatan. One day in the year 1613 Capt. Samuel Argall was on a voyage up the Potomac when he heard of this attractive Indian princess. An Indian trader was given a copper kettle to entice her on to the vessel. She was there, forced to be carried to Jamestown, then a struggling, smelly little settlement which was planted six years before. This was a plain case of kidnapping.

There at Jamestown one of the settlers was John Rolfe. He was single and became so smitten with the beauty and manners of the Indian girl that he turned on all his charm voltage and won her to himself to be his wife. When the Church of England rites of marriage were performed in April, 1613 there was great pomp and eclat in the celebration that followed. This is the same girl who was reputed to have saved the life of Capt. John Smith when he was about to be subdivided with savage war clubs, or words to that effect. In 1616 Rolfe took Pocahontas to England to show her off but Pocahontas was not too happy over it all. She was introduced to Queen Anne. On preparing to return to her native land—Virginia—the 21-year-old Indian princess came down with small pox and died. Today the name of Pocahontas is perpetuated in our big county's name and other names, too.

FIRST WHITE MEN to settle in Pocahontas County were Jacob Martin and Stephen Sewell. It was in 1749 these two reached the mouth of Knapps Creek and erected a cabin on the banks of the Greenbrier River. Subsequently they fell out in an argument over religion and one of them moved into a hollow tree.

Sewell later moved some 40 miles west where Indians killed him. His tent is kept alive in the Big Sewell Mountain range which bears his name. Big Sewell Mountain in Fayette County is the highest point on the Midland Trail (U. S. Route 90). Sewell was killed in September, 1778.

When Sewell and Martin settled at present day Marlinton they established the oldest settlement on western waters in West Virginia.

When Pocahontas was formed Marlinton was made the county seat. Thereby came buyers to trade furs, well grazing, and other things. Some time trading post was the headquarters of business the place eventually was given the name of Marlinton. Over 60 years ago the county seat of justice was transferred to Marlinton where it is to this day.

SECOND KNOWN WHITE MEN

on the Greenbrier River were John Lewis and his son Andrew. They came into the wide of Pocahontas as agents and surveyors for the Greenbrier Land Company, in which the British Crown had granted 100,000 acres of land to be located in the Greenbrier Valley. This was the time John Lewis got tangled up in a thicket of greenbriers which covered the valley and swore he would always afterwards call the stream upon whose banks he was surveying lands, "The Greenbrier". That name stuck. John Lewis was the first man to carry a compass into the Greenbrier Valley.

Greenbrier River rises in Pocahontas County and runs in a south-western direction, dividing the county in half. It and the Elk are the longest rivers entirely within the state. The Greenbrier flows into New River at Bellepoint in Summers County, 178 miles from its source. Andrew Lewis, son of John Lewis, is the man for whom Lewisburg is named. He conquered Conestoga at Point Pleasant on Monday, Oct. 10, 1774, in the first battle of the American Revolution.

ANOTHER EARLY PIONEER

in Pocahontas was Col. John McNeel. He was the first actual settler at what was called the Little Levels. He was born near Winchester, Va., but migrated to Cumberland Valley in Maryland. There he got into a fight with another fellow and thought he had killed his antagonist. He was hit in the trail, counting himself a fugitive from justice.

One day he came to Little Levels, in about the year 1763. While hunting he came upon two white frontiersmen, Charles and James Kennison, in search of a spot to settle. From them McNeel learned that the man he had fought was not dead, nor was he injured overly much. He went back east of the mountains with the Kennisons. There he married Martha Davis, a woman of Welsh ancestry, having been born in Wales in 1743.

They came back to Little Levels and there McNeel built a log meeting house as a house of worship. It was called the White Pole Church, being one of the earliest churches west of the Alleghenies, maybe the very oldest.

McNeel joined Andrew Lewis's Army and fought in the Point Pleasant battle. While McNeel was away on the Point Pleasant campaign his infant child died. Alone in the wilderness, Mrs. John McNeel, nee Martha Davis, fashioned a crude coffin, dug a grave, and buried her babe herself.

Hard by Hillsboro in Pocahontas is the quaint cemetery where Mr. and Mrs. John McNeel are buried. There, too, lie Charles and Edward Kennison and their wives and other heroes of the big Shawnee battle at Point Pleasant. One of God's days I plan to go to Hillsboro to roam a bit.

JOHN McNEEL'S settling Little Levels, fancying himself to be a fugitive from justice, recalls how Walter Kelly settled Cedar Grove at the mouth of Kelly's Creek in Kanawha County did the same thing. Rumor was he had killed a man in North Carolina and fled into the wilderness to get away. Buckingham was settled by the two Pringle brothers who were army deserters from Fort Pitt. If ever boys to trace one's family back too godawfully far, does it? More of Pocahontas, come tomorrow.

By SHIRLEY DONNELLY

When time and space run out on me regarding, I was a-felling just about the brain trust of Pocahontas County who cast their lot with the Stars and Bars in the four years of blood-letting from 1861 to 1865.

A notable family of Pocahontas was the McNeel family. One of these was William Lamb McNeel. He was born near Hillsboro on July 12, 1823. He was the son of Abraham and Magdalene Kelly McNeel, and a grandson of the old pioneer, John McNeel, who came to Little Levels about the year 1770. That pioneer, John McNeel, built the first hewed log house that ever stood on the soil of Pocahontas County.

On Oct. 25, 1833, William Lamb McNeel and Margaret Jane Beard were married. She was the daughter of Joseph and Martha Beard. Eleven children were born to this blessed union, about Margaret Jane Beard died Oct. 8, 1874, having been born Oct. 25, 1833.

In spite of the fact he had a family when the train of war scoured in 1861, William Lamb McNeel felt honor bound to follow the state of Virginia which gave him birth. During the last three years of the Civil War he was a captain of Co. "E" of the 12th Virginia Cavalry. In return for hazarding his life in high places on the field of honor, the citizens of Pocahontas elected McNeel their sheriff in 1872 for a four year term. Then they sent him to the state Legislature first as a delegate and then as a state Senator. He was a man his neighbors could trust just like one can fearlessly eat carefully raised and sprayed apples in the dark. He was an honored Confederate veteran when the Lord called him from his labors.

HARKEN to the humdrum story of Franklin Andrew Renick. This man had Pocahontas connections.

On the first of July, 1862, this man had to enter the Confederate Army or submit a substitute. For some reason he elected to hire a substitute in his stead. Not all men relish the field, you know. Then it came to pass the substitute law was repealed.

Result of this emergency action of the Confederate government was that, in April, 1864, this man Renick had to go to war in person. This it was that Franklin Andrew Renick found himself two soldiers in one service, Company "E", 14th Virginia Cavalry. So he served until the drums of war ceased to throb and the flags of battle were furled. But fate caught up with him and the real Franklin Andrew Renick was captured as a prisoner of war on Sept. 9, 1864.

He was carted off to Camp Chase, Ohio, where he was confined until March 17, 1865. Then it was that the ravages of disease and starvation compelled him to take the oath of allegiance. He was released and sent home, just about half dead. He saw much of the corruption that obtained in that awful prison. He used to tell how he saw federal government food and medicines that were never allowed to reach their destination. He saw how federal officers could be bribed into letting prisoners escape for a price, or have their exchange expedited just for a handful of silver.

It was his opinion that letting the men starve and perish from disease was the best way of getting rid of the unfortunate wretches there confined by the Washington government. He was bitter as gall over the whole thing, and who could blame him?

He cared little for war and used to pour it into his own people. One such recollection was that when the rain and the of his outfit were fighting at Newfield in one awful storm, the general staff his staff were registering two miles away on a big party.

Camp Chase must have been a daisy. I used to have the late Rev. Arthur B. Denton of Oak Hill, Indiana the doctor, Dr. Harry A. Queen, the big sternest minister.

Where, tell me about Camp Chase. He was a prisoner at war there, too, for a long spell. In our library at Union Drake is a copy of "Kansas" Story of Camp Chase. It bears the names of those who died there—by the hundreds and hundreds of thousands, too.

EVEN DOCTORS of medicine went to war in those days. One such medicine man was Dr. Corvus P. Bryan. When up around Hillsboro will be able to recall the stories their grandparents told them about this man of mercy. There's where he returned to practice his profession in 1872. Dr. Bryan was a graduate of the Jefferson Medical College in the Class of 1855.

During the war Dr. Bryan dropped his civilian practice and served as a soldier alongside his fellow Virginians. He was with the 8th Virginia Cavalry. He acted as surgeon of the military post at Warm Springs, Va., in the fall and winter of 1862. From July 1, 1863 to April 3, 1865, he sat in the House of Burgesses, the lower house of the Virginia Assembly.

WHAT OF THE MINISTERS of Pocahontas during the Civil War? Well, to start out with, there just weren't many of them.

One I know about was the Rev. George Preston Moore. His parents were both born in Pocahontas but died in Iowa, where the tall corn grows. In near Iowa he was twice married. His second wife was born June 30, 1844 and her marriage anniversary was the day of her birth, in 1865. She was Ruth J. Gay. His first wife was Elizabeth M. Poags.

Reverend Moore was not one to gawk about. All his life was spent within a quarter of a mile of where he was born. He did not take part in the Civil War but did act as quartermaster agent at Edray. He was chosen to many public offices by his fellow citizens of Pocahontas. Long was he postmaster at Edray and for some time he was justice of the peace.

ward Kennison and their wives and other heroes of the big Shawnee battle at Point Pleasant. One of God's days I plan to go to Hillsboro to roam a bit.

---

JOHN McNEEL'S settling Little Levels, fancying himself to be a fugitive from justice, recalls how Walter Kelly settled Cedar Grove at the mouth of Kelly's Creek in Kanawha County did the same thing. Rumor was he had killed a man in North Carolina and fled into the wilderness to get away.

Buckhannon was settled by the two Pringle brothers who were army deserters from Fort Pitt. It never pays to trace one's family back too goshawfully far, does it? More of Pocahontas, come tomorrow.

mouth of Knapps Creek and erected a cabin on the banks of the Greenbrier River. Subsequently they fell out in an argument over religion and one of them moved into a hollow tree.

Sewell later moved some 40 miles west where Indians killed him. His fame is kept alive in the Big Sewell Mountain range which bears his name. Big Sewell Mountain in Fayette County is the highest point on the Midland Trail (U. S. Route 60). Sewell was killed in September, 1776.

When Sewell and Marlin settled at present day Marlinton they established the oldest settlement on western waters in West Virginia.

When Pocahontas was formed Huntersville was made the county seat. Thither came hunters to trade pelts, sell ginseng, and other things. Since this trading post was the rendezvous of hunters the place naturally was given the name of Huntersville. Over 60 years ago the county seat of justice was transferred to Marlinton where it is to this day.

Hard by H is the quaint and Mrs. Jo
There, too,
ward Kennis
other heroe
battle at P God's days
boro to roa

JOHN M
Levels, fan
fugitive fro
Walter Kel
at the mo Kanawha.
thing. Rum man in N
into the w Buckhan
two Pringl
army dese
never pay back too g
More of morrow.

... for a long span. In my library at Upson Downs is a copy of Knauss' "Story of Camp Chase".
It bears the names of those who died there—by the hundreds upon hundreds of thousands, too.

---

EVEN DOCTORS of medicine went to war in those days. One such medicine man was Dr. Cyrus P. Bryan. Folks up around Hillsboro will be able to recall the stories their grandparents told them about this man of mercy.
There's where he returned to practice his profession in 1873. Dr.
Bryan was a graduate of the Jefferson Medical College in the class of 1855.

During the war Dr. Bryan dropped his civilian practice and served as a soldier alongside his fellow Virginians. He was with the Bath County, Va., Cavalry. He acted as surgeon of the military post at Warm Springs, Va., in the fall and winter of 1862. From July 1, 1863, to April 5, 1865, he sat in the House of Burgesses, the lower house of the Virginia Assembly.

---

WHAT OF THE MINISTERS of Pocahontas during the Civil War?
Well, to start out with, there just weren't many of them.

One I knew about was the Rev.

sembly.

WHAT OF THE MINISTERS of Pocahontas during the Civil War? Well, to start out with, there just weren't many of them.

One I know about was the Rev. George Preston Moore. His parents were both born in Pocahontas but died in Iowa, where the tall corn grows, to hear Iowans tell it. Reverend Moore was twice married. His second wife was born June 30, 1844 and her marriage anniversary was the day of her birth, in 1865. She was Ruth J. Gay. His first wife was Elizabeth M. Poage.

Reverend Moore was not one to galivant about. All his life was spent within a quarter of a mile of where he was born. He did not take part in the Civil War but did act as quartermaster agent at Edray. He was chosen to many public offices by his fellow citizens of Pocahontas. Long was he postmaster at Edray and for some time he was justice of the peace.

here he married Martha woman of Welsh ances- g been born in Wales in me back to Little Levels McNeel built a log meet- as a house of worship. alled the White Pole ing one of the earliest est of the Alleghaniés; very oldest.

joined Andrew Lewis's fought in the Point ttle. While McNeel was e Point Pleasant carn- fant child died. Alone erness, Mrs. John Mc- artha Davis, fashion- coffin, dug a grave, her babe herself.

Hillsboro in Pocahontas cemetery where Mr. an McNeel are buried. lie Charles and Ed- on and their wives and of the big Shawnee int Pleasant. One of plan to go to Hills- a bit.

EEL'S settling Little ing himself to be a justice, recalls how settled Cedar Grove of Kelly's Creek in unty did the same was he had killed a Carolina and fled erness to get away. was settled by the brothers who were s from Fort Pitt. It trace one's family awfully far, does it? ahontas, come to-

HARKEN to the thumbnail story of Franklin Andrew Renick. This man had Pocahontas connections.

On the first of July, 1862, this man had to enter the Confederate Army or submit a substitute. For some reason he elected to hire a substi- tute in his stead. Not all men relish the field, you know. Then it came to pass the substitute law was repealed.

Result of this emergency action of the Confederate government was that, in April, 1864, this man Renick had to go to war in person. This it was that Franklin Andrew Renick found himself two soldiers in one service, Company "E", 14th Virginia Cavalry. So he served un- til the drums of war ceased to throb and the flags of battle were furled. But fate caught up with him and the real Franklin Andrew Renick was captured as a prisoner of war on Sept. 9, 1864.

He was carted off to Camp Chase, Ohio, where he was con- fined until March 17, 1865. Then it was that the ravages of disease and starvation compelled him to take the oath of allegiance. He was released and sent home, just about half dead. He saw much of the corruption that obtained in that awful prison. He used to tell how he saw federal government food and medicines that were never al- lowed to reach their destination. He saw how federal officers could be bribed into letting prisoners escape for a price, or have their exchange expedited just for a handful of silver.

It was his opinion that letting the men starve and perish from disease was the best way of get- ting rid of the unfortunate wretches there confined by the Washington government. He was bitter as gaul over the whole thing, and who could blame him?

grows, to hear lowans tell it. Rev- erend Moore was twice married. His second wife was born June 30, 1844 and her marriage anniversary was the day of her birth, in 1864. She was Ruth J. Gay. His first wife was Elizabeth M. Poage.

Reverend Moore was not one galivant about. All his life w- spent within a quarter of a mile where he was born. He did not take part in the Civil War but acted as quartermaster agent at Edray. He was chosen to man- age public offices by his fellow citi- zens of Pocahontas. Long was he postmaster at Edray and for some time he was justice of the peace.

Cornstalk at Point Pleasant on Monday, Oct. 10, 1774, in the first battle of the American Revolution.

ANOTHER EARLY PIONEER

in Pocahontas was Col. John McNeel. He was the first actual settler at what was called the Little Levels. He was born near Winchester, Va., but migrated to Cumberland Valley in Maryland. There he got into a fight with another fellow and thought he had killed his antagonist. Result was he hit the trail, counting himself a fugitive from justice.

One day he came to Little Levels, in about the year 1765. While hunting he came upon two white frontiersmen, Charles and James Kennison, in search of a spot to settle. From them McNeel learned that the man he had fought was not dead, nor was he injured overly much. He went back east of the mountains with the Kennisons. There he married Martha Davis, a woman of Welsh ancestry, having been born in Wales in 1743.

They came back to Little Levels and there McNeel built a log meeting house as a house of worship. It was called the White Pole Church, being one of the earliest churches west of the Alleghanies; maybe the very oldest.

McNeel joined Andrew Lewis's Army and fought in the Point Pleasant battle. While McNeel was away on the Point Pleasant cam-

ter of Joseph and Ma Eleven children were blest union, albeit Ma Beard died Oct. 6,
been born Oct. 25, 183

In spite of the fact family when the toc sounded in 1861, Willia Neel felt honor bound state of Virginia whic birth. During the last of the Civil War he w of Co. "F" of the Cavalry. In return f his life in high places of honor, the citizens
tas elected McNeel th 1872 for a four year they sent him to the ture first as a deleg as a state Senator. H his neighbors could t one can fearlessly
raised and sprayed dark. He was an hon erate veteran when th
him from his labors.

HARKEN to the th of Franklin Andrew man had Pocahontas

On the first of July,
had to enter the Con
or submit a substit reason he elected to tute in his stead.
relish the field, you came to pass the
was repealed.

Result of this eme
of the Confederate

...when he was
ided with savage
ds to that effect.
Pocahontas to er off but Poca-
happy over it
luced to Queen
g to return to irginia—the 21-rincess came and died. To-ahontas is per-

g county's name
too.

EN to settle in y were Jacob Sewell. It was reached the reek and erectbanks of the Subsequently
argument over them moved

some 40 miles illed him. His n the Big Se-
which bears
ell Mountain s the highest Trail (U. S.
as killed in

Marlin settled
aton they esettlement on st Virginia.
was formed
e the county
ers to trade and other

...went back
east of the mountains with the Ken-nisons. There he married Martha Davis, a woman of Welsh ancestry, having been born in Wales in 1743.

They came back to Little Levels and there McNeel built a log meeting house as a house of worship.
It was called the White Pole Church, being one of the earliest churches west of the Alleghanies;
maybe the very oldest.

McNeel joined Andrew Lewis's
Army and fought in the Point Pleasant battle. While McNeel was away on the Point Pleasant campaign his infant child died. Alone in the wilderness, Mrs. John Mc-Neel, nee Martha Davis, fashioned a crude coffin, dug a grave, and buried her babe herself.

Hard by Hillsboro in Pocahontas is the quaint cemetery where Mr.
and Mrs. John McNeel are buried.
There, too, lie Charles and Edward Kennison and their wives and other heroes of the big Shawnee battle at Point Pleasant. One of God's days I plan to go to Hillsboro to roam a bit.

JOHN McNEEL'S settling Little Levels, fancying himself to be a fugitive from justice, recalls how Walter Kelly settled Cedar Grove at the mouth of Kelly's Creek in Kanawha County did the same thing. Rumor was he had killed a man in North Carolina and fled into the wilderness to get away.

Buckhannon was settled by the two Pringle brothers who were army deserters from Fort Pitt. It never pays to trace one's family

...him from his labo
HARKEN to the
of Franklin And man had Poca

On the first of J had to enter the or submit a su
reason he elect tute in his st
relish the field,
came to pass
was repealed.

Result of this
of the Confec
was that, in A Renick had to g
This it was tha Renick found h
in one service,
Virginia Cavalr
til the drums
throb and the f furled. But fa
him and the re Renick was cap
of war on Sept

He was cart
Chase, Ohio, v fined until Mar
was that the
and starvation
take the oath of released and se half dead. He corruption that awful prison. H he saw federal and medicines t
lowed to reach
He saw how fed be bribed into escape for a pe

White ... first places of public worship on the Western Waters.

---

Just north of Millpoint is Stephens Hole. Here Stephen Sewell, one of the two first residents of Marlinton, wintered in a limestone cave—running water convenient—along in the 1750's. He went to Greenbrier only to lose his hair to the Indians, being murdered on Big Sewell, the mountain which bears his name to this day. My little effort to point a moral fell flat with the Ronceverte ladies as to how such was all one great lesson for Pocahontas people, never to wander from their own fireside, even if it is but a hole in the wall.

---

There is a local tradition that a paymaster of one Ohio regiment, in the excitement of the Battle of Droop Mountain, absconded with the monthly payroll of his regiment, and hid the money in Stephens Hole until he could come back and safely carry it away. I never could find out how the news leaked out. If that Yankee did hide the money far back in the hole, all I can say he was built the Ronceverte ladies as to how such was all one great lesson for Pocahontas people, never to wander from their own fireside, even if it is but a hole in the wall.

Basil C. Sharp, county agent, lately met the y on Droop up to be pome; they tell to company Droop was end of this appearance crouching ntry of the ounty. The have been records of bout 1775, le to one who lived that day, and Au- tier river ago.

interest- spagnum hich like care to Also posit of fine. I allar to Moun- Creek ber 6, portant t Vir- on the anced-

There is a local tradition that a paymaster of one Ohio regiment, in the excitement of the Battle of Droop Mountain, absconded with the monthly payroll of his regiment, and hid the money in Stephens Hole until he could come back and safely carry it away. I never could find out how the news leaked out. If that Yankee did hide the money far back in the hole, all I can say he was built on slimmer lines than this editor, as I got stuck in the narrow place the last time I crawled there for to explore.

Some years ago a most interesting and valuable history reading book came into my hands. In it is recorded something about a carpet-bag governor of a southern state during the reconstruction times; a bad actor, infamous, among other things, for having run off with a monthly payroll of the Ohio regiment for which he was the pay officer. Some of these times, through idle curiosity, I will try to check up to see if the local tale and record of the book can be connected.

Nearby Stephens Hole is the Bridger Mountain. The predominating peaks of Bridger are the Pinnacle and the Swago. Here in the Gap the Bridger boys, James and John, were way-laid and murdered by Indians in 1784. They were on their way from the Bridger home on Greenbrier River to the fort at Millpoint. There is controversy as to the exact year, but I still hold for 1784. I will write a chapter on it some week.

On up the Seneca Trail—the War-

just above the mouth of Swago.

On Droop Mountain is an interesting cranberry bog, with its sphagnum moss and interesting plants which like wet feet. The ladies did not care to mess around in the damp much. Also on Droop Mountain is the deposit of Droop sandstone, white and fine. I am told this sandstone is peculiar to this region, stretching to Elk Mountain on the north and to Spring Creek Mountain to the south.

On Droop Mountain November 6, 1863, was fought the most important me now I must be polite to company in the county.

My father said the name Droop was given because the eastern end of this great mountain had the appearance of drooping, or hanging or crouching from the open savannah country of the Big Levels of Greenbrier county. The earliest record of the name I have been able to find is the court records of Botetourt county along about 1775, where reference was made to one Charles Kennison, a juror, who lived beyond Droop Mountain. In that day, the line between Botetourt and Augusta county crossed Greenbrier river
just above the mouth of Swago.

mountains on the east and the lofty Back Alleghanies on the west and the north.

---

Hillsboro nestles in the Little Levels;
there John McNeel and the Kennison Brothers settled in the uneasy 1760's; there was established in 1843 the Academy, a preparatory branch of the University of Virginia; there in 1793 was organized Oak Grove Church,— sturdy and strong to this day; there was built during the Revoution the White Pole Meeting House, one of the first places of public worship on the Western Waters.

---

Just north of Millpoint is Stephens

BY SHIRLEY DONNELLY

Yesterday I left off with the promise that today you would get some Civil War stories to read in this column.

The biggest battle of the war in West Virginia was fought at Droop Mountain on Nov. 6, 1863. This battle resulted in the retreat of the Confederates who were greatly outnumbered in the six-hour struggle. No where between the tide-washed shores of old Virginia and the rock-ribbed regions of the Alleghanies were there to be found more loyal southerners. To this day the county is overwhelmingly Democratic.

Capt. D. A. Stofer mustered a company of Confederates at Huntersville and it was subsequently attached to the 31st Virginia Infantry Regiment. The first com-

HUGH P. MCGLAUGHLIN was born in Highland Co., Va., Aug. 1, 1843. His family moved to Pocahontas when this lad was but nine. Came the Civil War and the 18-year-old enlisted in Co. "I", 25th Virginia Infantry. Throughout the war he served the Confederacy. He was captured and taken first to Point Lookout, and from there to Elmira, N. Y.

He had one brother in the service who was also taken prisoner of war. This unfortunate brother died of scurvy in the Elmira prisoner-of-war camp. He died Nov. 11, 1864. After the war's close, Hugh McGlaughlin came back to his home in the hill country of Pocahontas and went to farming up there close to Huntersville.

WHEN HE WAS 30 years old Daniel A. Stofer moved to Pocahontas. He hailed from Augusta Co., Va., where he was born at Middlebrook on May 5, 1821. He

THE EARLY COMER to Pocahontas was Jacob Warwick. He lived was the part of the county that is now included in Pocahontas. He had a whole lot of Negro slaves. One slave known as "Old Ben" and he ran the Warwick farming operation was called the Clover farm.

When Warwick and "Old Ben" were out salting cattle on the hills they were ambushed by Yankees. Warwick's horse was shot and the men beat it to the house where it was hidden there in safety. Then the rest of the slaves fled to a refuge in the hills until the Yankees had passed. Warwick didn't stop until he reached the Jacksons River in Vir-

THE CIVIL WAR in 1861 was a hard thing had to be done in Pocahontas because the county records because the county seat was at Littleton and William Curry was in a dual status as sheriff and circuit clerk. He was a Yankee and the Yankees were coming in the armies of aliens at anything. So did the court, who ordered to get a move on and the records were safe.

In Pocahontas the good people much dread of the Yankees as their and the tomahawk of the ages. Consequent upon the court's order to move the records to a place of safety Curry carried them to the Little Levels.

The records rested until January when Curry carried them to Littleton, Va. There at the records reposed in the Clerk of Alleghany

By SHIRLEY DONNELLY

Yesterday I left off with the promise that today you would get some Civil War stories to read in this column.

The biggest battle of the war in West Virginia was fought at Droop Mountain on Nov. 6, 1863. This battle resulted in the retreat of the Confederates who were greatly outnumbered in the six-hour struggle. Nowhere between the tide-washed shores of old Virginia and the rock-ribbed regions of the Alleghanies were there to be found more loyal southerners. To this day the county is overwhelmingly Democratic.

Capt. D. A. Stofer mustered a company of Confederates at Huntersville and it was subsequently attached to the 31st Virginia Infantry Regiment. The first company of volunteers in Pocahontas was that of Capt. Andrew G. McNeel. It was organized at Little Levels. This was early in the spring of 1861 when the first news of the war was heard in Pocahontas. That first company was disbanded that fall because arms failed to reach them. Arms were shipped from Richmond but were copped off somewhere along the route.

Third company of Pocahontas volunteers to line up was the one commanded by Captain Arbogast of Greenbank, up there where the big astronomical ear is today being erected to listen to the music of the spheres. Arbogast's Company was attached to the 31st Virginia Infantry Regiment. Captain Arbogast seems to have been on the ball and was promoted to major in the regiment. One Pocahontas officer by the name of Lt. H. M. Poague was killed in action at

HUGH P. McGLAUGHLIN was born in Highland Co., Va., Aug. 1, 1843. His family moved to Pocahontas when this lad was nine. Came the Civil War and the 18-year-old enlisted in Co. 25th Virginia Infantry. Throughout the war he served the Confederacy. He was captured and taken first to Point Lookout, from there to Elmira, N. Y.

He had one brother in the service who was also taken prisoner of war. This unfortunate brother died of scurvy in the Elmira prisoner-of-war camp. He was released Nov. 11, 1864. After the war closed, Hugh McGlaughlin returned back to his home in the hills of Pocahontas and was farming up there close to Hillsville.

WHEN HE WAS 30 years old Daniel A. Stofer moved to Pocahontas. He hailed from Highland Co., Va., where he was born in Middlebrook on May 5, 1836. He signed up for service in the war with Mexico and served under Gen. Zachary ("Old Rough and Ready") Taylor, destined to become our 12th President. He volunteered in 1846 for Mexican War service.

When the Civil War broke out he volunteered in the cause of the native state of Virginia. His brothers joined the Confederacy, too. One never returned. Daniel A. Stofer was at the right time and was commissioned a captain.

This intrepid soldier received five separate wounds in a skirmish, all five wounds inflicted in less than one minute! One wound was in his right breast, two were in his left breast, two were in his left leg. When he was struck in the left leg, the bone was broken in two places. One of the two wounds entered his breast and